

Navigating Legal Implications of Power Industry Regulations

Hosted by the editors of POWER magazine

Monday, December 7 • 7:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. • Mirage Las Vegas
powermagconference.com

POWER magazine is proud to host a one-day conference to provide power generators and industry partners with access to the latest developments and insights concerning the legal aspects of compliance with environmental regulations.

The conference is intended for anyone involved in existing power plants' financial, legal, or operational decisions about compliance with environmental regulations—from CEOs and counsel to compliance officers, senior engineers, and anyone involved in planning or financing new or modified power facilities. Learn from and network with your peers and experts in negotiating the regulatory minefield.

KEYNOTE

Avi S. Garbow, General Counsel, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

PLANNED SESSIONS

New Energy Legislation and Litigation Affecting the Power Sector

What does the blizzard of new federal energy legislation this year mean for you and your plant? Legal experts will break down what has changed and what needs to change with it.

The Clean Power Plan: Uncertain Future, Certain Pain

With the final rule for the Clean Power Plan in place, but the outcome of litigation against it uncertain, find what you need to know to protect your plant and your company from unnecessary risk and expense.

Surviving the Environmental Compliance Minefield: CCR, Ozone, 316(b), MATS 2.0, & More

The pace of new environmental regulation continues to accelerate. Knowing the rules doesn't mean you know the best ways of avoiding trouble. Hear about best practices to keep your plant and company in compliance while keeping costs under control.
